There are two major differences between Exploring Creation with Chemistry, 2nd Edition and Discovering Design with Chemistry. The most important one (in my opinion) is the difference in the laboratory component of the courses. The old course has some great experiments in it, but the new course has significantly superior ones.

We chose Apologia's Exploring Creation with Chemistry 3rd edition, because I had just completed Apologia's Anatomy textbook, 2nd edition, and I loved it. After finishing 3 modules of Exploring Chemistry I was very displeased and frustrated to the point where I thought I should find a different textbook.
