From Booklist. Faith McMann, heroine of this gripping novel, is a Sacramento schoolteacher, wife, and mother who comes home just in time to witness her husband's throat getting cut and her two children hauled away. The attempt on her life is botched—the killers were in a hurry—and as she recovers, she's convinced the police are brushing her off. So she whacks a detective with his computer keyboard and gets sentenced to anger management sessions.

This is the third book in the Faith McMann Trilogy and I am a big fan of this author. The series focuses on human trafficking and child slavery which just makes me shudder, but it is an unfortunate reality. A very well told series with some fantastic characters. It really does shed a very stark light on a terrible, bleak subject.
